SURVEY of the nursery situation in America reveals the fact that there are not trees and plants enough to supply the demand this year. France, the source of our supply of fruit tree seedlings, has been so upset that the normal output of seedlings at Orleans and Angers has been cut down more than four-fifths.

Add to this the fact that production at home of both fruit and ornamental stock has been slowed down because of the large number of our skilled workmen in service and it is clear that quality nursery stock will be very scarce this year and for several years to come. Prices for good nursery products will advance. Now is the time to buy.

One of the Lessons I Learned in France

We can add to the beauty of our country, make our home life more healthful and happy and ourselves and our children more prosperous and contented by the judicious selection and planting of fruit, ornamental stock and flowers around our homes.---Martin King, Jr.
